Attorneys for Plaintiff and the Class

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

DERRICK ANDERSON, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated,

Case No.:

Plaintiff,

CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

ALCONE COMPANY, INC.,

Defendant,

Plaintiff, DERRICK ANDERSON (hereinafter, “Plaintiff”), on behalf of himself and others similarly situated, by and through his undersigned attorney, hereby files this Class Action Complaint against Defendant, ALCONE COMPANY, INC., and states as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. This class action seeks to put an end to systemic civil rights violations committed by Defendant ALCONE COMPANY, INC. (hereafter, “ALCONE COMPANY” or “Defendant”), against the blind in New York State and across the United States. Defendant is denying blind individuals throughout the United States equal access to the goods and services ALCONE COMPANY provides to its non-disabled customers through <http://www.alconeco.com> (hereafter, “Alconeco.com” or the “Website”). Alconeco.com provides to the public a wide array of the goods, services, information, and other programs offered by ALCONE COMPANY. Yet, Alconeco.com contains access barriers that make it difficult if not impossible for blind customers to use the website. In fact, the access barriers make it impossible for blind users to even complete a transaction on the website. ALCONE COMPANY thus excludes the blind from the full and equal participation in the growing Internet economy that is increasingly a fundamental part of the common marketplace and daily living. In the wave of technological advances in recent years, assistive computer technology is becoming an increasingly prominent part of everyday life, allowing blind people to fully and independently access a variety of services, including ordering cosmetics, skin care products, and beauty tools online for delivery.

2. Plaintiff is a blind individual. He brings this civil rights class action against Defendant for failing to design, construct, and/or own or operate a website that is fully accessible to, and independently usable by, blind people.

3. Specifically, Alconeco.com has many access barriers preventing blind people to independently navigate and complete a purchase using assistive computer technology.

4. Plaintiff uses the terms “blind person” or “blind people” and “the blind” to refer to all persons with visual impairments who meet the legal definition of blindness in that they have a visual acuity with correction of less than or equal to 20 x 200. Some blind people who meet this definition have limited vision. Others have no vision.

5. Approximately 8.1 million people in the United States are visually impaired, including 2.0 million who are blind.¹ There are approximately 400,000 visually impaired persons in New York State.²

6. Many blind people enjoy online shopping just as sighted people do. The lack of an accessible website means that blind people are excluded from the rapidly expanding self-service beauty industry and from independently accessing this ever-popular website.

7. Despite readily available accessible technology, such as the technology in use at other heavily trafficked retail websites, which makes use of alternative text, accessible forms, descriptive links, resizable text and limits the usage of tables and JavaScript, Defendant has chosen to rely on an exclusively visual interface, including image maps that are inaccessible. ALCONC COMPANY's sighted customers can independently browse, select, and cosmetics, skin care products, and beauty tools online without the assistance of others. However, blind people must rely on sighted companions to assist them in accessing and purchasing on Alconeco.com.

8. By failing to make the website accessible to blind persons, Defendant is violating basic equal access requirements under both state and federal law.

9. Congress provided a clear and national mandate for the elimination of discrimination against individuals with disabilities when it enacted the Americans with Disabilities Act. Such discrimination includes barriers to full integration, independent living, and equal opportunity for persons with disabilities, including those barriers created by websites and other public accommodations that are inaccessible to blind and visually impaired persons. Similarly, New York state law requires places of public accommodation to ensure access to goods, services and facilities by making reasonable accommodations for persons with disabilities.

10. Plaintiff browsed and intended to buy two Alcone Make-Off Makeup Remover Cloths products on Alconeco.com. However, unless Defendant remedies the numerous access barriers on its website, Plaintiff and Class members will continue to be unable to independently navigate, browse, use and complete a transaction on Alconeco.com. Plaintiff intends to browse and purchase items offered by Defendant in the future, once the access barriers are remedied.

11. This complaint seeks declaratory and injunctive relief to correct ALCONE COMPANY's policies and practices to include measures necessary to ensure compliance with federal and state law and to include monitoring of such measures, to update and remove accessibility barriers on Alconeco.com so that Plaintiff and the proposed Class of customers who are blind will be able to independently and privately use Defendant's website. This complaint also seeks compensatory damages to compensate Class members for having been subjected to unlawful discrimination.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

12. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction of this action pursuant to:

(a) 28 U.S.C. § 1331 and 42 U.S.C. § 12188, for Plaintiff's claims arising under Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. § 12181, et seq., ("ADA"); and

(b) 28 U.S.C. § 1332, because this is a class action, as defined by 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(1)(B), in which a member of the putative class is a citizen of a different state than Defendant, and the amount in controversy exceeds the sum or value of $5,000,000, excluding interest and costs. See 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2).

13. This Court has supplemental jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1367, over Plaintiff's pendent claims under the New York State Human Rights Law, N.Y. Exec. Law, Article 15 (Executive Law § 290 et seq.) and the New York City Human Rights Law, N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-101 et seq. ("City law").

14. Venue is proper in the Southern District of New York pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§

1391(b)-(c) and 1441(a).

15. Defendant is registered to do business in New York State and has been doing business in New York State, including the Southern District of New York. Defendant maintains a location in the Southern District of New York. It is subject to personal jurisdiction in this District. Defendant also has been and is committing the acts alleged herein in the Southern District of New York, has been and is violating the rights of consumers in the Southern District of New York, and has been and is causing injury to consumers in the Southern District of New York. A substantial part of the acts and omissions giving rise to Plaintiff's claims have occurred in the Southern District of New York. Specifically, Plaintiff attempted to purchase two Alcone Make-Off Makeup Remover Cloths products on Defendant's website Alconeco.com in New York.

PARTIES

16. Plaintiff, DERRICK ANDERSON, is and has been at all times material hereto a resident of Queens, New York.

17. Plaintiff ANDERSON is legally blind and a member of a protected class under the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12102(1)-(2), the regulations implementing the ADA set forth at 28 CFR §§ 36.101 et seq., the New York State Human Rights Law and the New York City Human Rights Law. Plaintiff ANDERSON cannot use a computer without the assistance of screen reader software. Plaintiff ANDERSON has been denied the full enjoyment of the facilities, goods and services of Alconeco.com, as well as to the facilities, goods and services of the ALCONE COMPANY store location, as a result of accessibility barriers on Alconeco.com. Most recently in April 2017, Plaintiff ANDERSON attempted to make a purchase on Alconeco.com but could not purchase the desired product due to the inaccessibility of the website. The inaccessibility of Alconeco.com has deterred him and Class members from the enjoyment of the ALCONE COMPANY Store.

18. Defendant ALCONE COMPANY, INC. is an American for-profit corporation organized under the laws of New York, with a physical location of business located at 322 W 49th St, New York, NY 10019 and an address for service of process c/o David L. Forman, 122 East 42nd St, New York, NY 10168.

19. Defendant owns and operates a store location (hereafter “ALCONE COMPANY Store”), which is a place of public accommodation. The ALCONE COMPANY Store is located in New York State. The store provides to the public important goods such as cosmetics, skin care, and beauty tools. ALCONE COMPANY also provides to the public a website service known as Alconeco.com. Among other things, Alconeco.com provides access to the array of goods and services offered to the public by ALCONE COMPANY, including product prices and other benefits related to these goods and services. The inaccessibility of Alconeco.com has deterred Plaintiff from shopping at the ALCONE COMPANY Store.

20. Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and others similarly situated seeks full and equal access to the goods and services provided by ALCONE COMPANY through Alconeco.com.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

21. Plaintiff, on behalf of himself and all others similarly situated, seeks certification of the following nationwide class pursuant to Rule 23(a) and 23(b)(2) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure: “all legally blind individuals in the United States who have attempted to access Alconeco.com and as a result have been denied access to the enjoyment of goods and services offered in the ALCONE COMPANY Store, during the relevant statutory period.”

22. Plaintiff seeks certification of the following New York subclass pursuant to Fed.R.Civ.P. 23(a), 23(b)(2), and, alternatively, 23(b)(3): “all legally blind individuals in New York State who have attempted to access Alconeco.com and as a result have been denied access to the enjoyment of goods and services offered in the ALCONE COMPANY Store, during the relevant statutory period.”

23. There are hundreds of thousands of visually impaired persons in New York State. There are approximately 8.1 million people in the United States who are visually impaired. Id. Thus, the persons in the class are so numerous that joinder of all such persons is impractical and the disposition of their claims in a class action is a benefit to the parties and to the Court.

24. This case arises out of Defendant’s policy and practice of maintaining an inaccessible website denying blind persons access to the goods and services of Alconeco.com and the ALCONE COMPANY Store. Due to Defendant’s policy and practice of failing to remove access barriers, blind persons have been and are being denied full and equal access to independently browse, select and shop on Alconeco.com and by extension the goods and services offered through Defendant’s website to the ALCONE COMPANY Store.

25. There are common questions of law and fact common to the class, including without limitation, the following:

- (a) Whether Alconeco.com is a “public accommodation” under the ADA;
- (b) Whether Alconeco.com is a “place or provider of public accommodation” under the laws of the New York;
- (c) Whether Defendant through its website Alconeco.com denies the full and equal enjoyment of its goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations to people with visual disabilities in violation of the ADA; and

- (d) Whether Defendant through its website Alconeco.com denies the full and equal enjoyment of its goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations to people with visual disabilities in violation of the laws of New York.

26. The claims of the named Plaintiff are typical of those of the class. The class, similar to the Plaintiff, are severely visually impaired or otherwise blind, and claim that ALCONE COMPANY has violated the ADA, and/or the laws of New York by failing to update or remove access barriers on its website, Alconeco.com, so it can be independently accessible to the class of people who are legally blind.

27. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately represent and protect the interests of the members of the Class because Plaintiff has retained and is represented by counsel competent and experienced in complex class action litigation, and because Plaintiff has no interests antagonistic to the members of the class. Class certification of the claims is appropriate pursuant to Fed. R. Civ P. 23(b)(2) because Defendant has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the Class, making appropriate both declaratory and injunctive relief with respect to Plaintiff and the Class as a whole.

28. Alternatively, class certification is appropriate under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3) because questions of law and fact common to Class members clearly predominate over questions affecting only individual class members, and because a class action is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this litigation.

29. Judicial economy will be served by maintenance of this lawsuit as a class action in that it is likely to avoid the burden that would be otherwise placed upon the judicial system by the filing of numerous similar suits by people with visual disabilities throughout the United States.

30. References to Plaintiff shall be deemed to include the named Plaintiff and each member of the class, unless otherwise indicated.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

31. Defendant ALCONE COMPANY operates the ALCONE COMPANY Store, a cosmetics, skin care, and beauty tools store located in the Times Square area of Manhattan.

31. Alconeco.com is a service and benefit offered by ALCONE COMPANY and the ALCONE COMPANY Store throughout the United States, including New York State. Alconeco.com is owned, controlled and/or operated by ALCONE COMPANY.

32. Alconeco.com is a commercial website that offers products and services for online sale that are available at the ALCONE COMPANY Store location. The online store allows the user to browse items, order its selection of cosmetics, skin care, and and beauty tools; learn about ALCONE COMPANY's history, find the store locations; communicate with customer service representatives; and perform a variety of other functions.

33. Among the features offered by Alconeco.com are the following:

- (a) store information, allowing persons who wish to shop at a ALCONE COMPANY store to learn its location, hours, and phone numbers;
- (b) an online store, allowing customers to make a purchase and select for delivery;
- (c) information about ALCONE COMPANY's terms and conditions and privacy policy;
- (d) information about ALCONE COMPANY's frequently asked questions about orders and products;

- (e) sale of many of the products and services available at the ALCONE COMPANY Store in New York State.

34. This case arises out of ALCONE COMPANY's policy and practice of denying the blind access to Alconeco.com, including the goods and services offered by the ALCONE COMPANY Store through Alconeco.com. Due to ALCONE COMPANY's failure and refusal to remove access barriers to Alconeco.com, blind individuals have been and are being denied equal access to the ALCONE COMPANY Store, as well as to the numerous goods, services and benefits offered to the public through Alconeco.com.

35. ALCONE COMPANY denies the blind access to goods, services and information made available through Alconeco.com by preventing them from freely navigating Alconeco.com.

36. The Internet has become a significant source of information for conducting business and for doing everyday activities such as shopping, banking, etc., for sighted and blind persons.

37. The blind access websites by using keyboards in conjunction with screen-reading software which vocalizes visual information on a computer screen. Except for a blind person whose residual vision is still sufficient to use magnification, screen access software provides the only method by which a blind person can independently access the Internet. Unless websites are designed to allow for use in this manner, blind persons are unable to fully access Internet websites and the information, products and services contained therein.

38. There are well-established guidelines for making websites accessible to blind people. These guidelines have been in place for at least several years and have been followed successfully by other large business entities in making their websites accessible. The Web

Accessibility Initiative (WAI), a project of the World Wide Web Consortium which is the leading standards organization of the Web, has developed guidelines for website accessibility. The federal government has also promulgated website accessibility standards under Section 508 of the Rehabilitation Act. These guidelines are readily available via the Internet, so that a business designing a website can easily access them. These guidelines recommend several basic components for making websites accessible, including, but not limited to: adding invisible alt-text to graphics; ensuring that all functions can be performed using a keyboard and not just a mouse; ensuring that image maps are accessible and adding headings so that blind people can easily navigate the site. Without these very basic components a website will be inaccessible to a blind person using a screen reader.

39. Alconeco.com contains access barriers that prevent free and full use by Plaintiff and blind persons using keyboards and screen reading software. These barriers are pervasive and include, but are not limited to: lack of alt-text on graphics and inaccessible product purchase pages.

40. Alternative text (“Alt-text”) is invisible code embedded beneath a graphical image on a website. Web accessibility requires that alt-text be coded with each picture so that a screen reader can speak the alternative text while a sighted user sees the picture. Alt-text does not change the visual presentation except that it appears as a text pop-up when the mouse moves over the picture. There are many important pictures on Alconeco.com that lack a text equivalent. The lack of alt-text on these graphics prevents screen readers from accurately vocalizing a description of the graphics. (Screen readers detect and vocalize alt-text to provide a description of the image to a blind computer user.) On Alconeco.com, graphics and pictures read “link” instead of indicating what the graphics are for. As a result, Plaintiff and blind ALCONE

COMPANY customers are unable to determine what is on the website, browse the site, look for ALCONE COMPANY's locations, investigate ALCONE COMPANY's cosmetics, skin care, and bath and body products and/or make any purchases.

41. Similarly, Alconeco.com lacks accessible forms including check boxes and drop-down menus on their product pages. Check boxes and drop-down menus allow customers to locate and choose products as well as specify the size and quantity of certain items. Due to the complete lack of accessibility of these forms, blind customers cannot choose and purchase the products they want since they are stopped from doing so. In particular, blind customers are unable to specify the quantity of product desired because the quantity boxes do not work. Because blind customers cannot specify and choose the quantity of their desired product, they are not allowed to add the item to their cart. As blind customers are prevented from adding items to their carts, they are essentially prevented from purchasing any item on Alconeco.com which requires this information. Furthermore, Plaintiff needs to scroll through the entire menu on each webpage to get to the content he seeks, making navigating the website challenging and figuring out where he is on the website similarly perplexing.

42. Due to Alconeco.com's inaccessibility, Plaintiff and blind customers must in turn spend time, energy, and/or money to make their purchases at the ALCONE COMPANY Store. Some blind customers may require a driver to get to the store or require extended assistance in navigating the store. By contrast, if Alconeco.com was accessible, a blind person could independently investigate products and programs and make purchases via the Internet as sighted individuals can and do.

43. Alconeco.com thus contains access barriers which deny full and equal access to Plaintiff, who would otherwise use Alconeco.com and who would otherwise be able to fully and equally enjoy the benefits and services of ALCONE COMPANY Store in New York State.

44. Plaintiff ANDERSON has made numerous attempts to complete a purchase on Alconeco.com, most recently in January 2017, but was unable to do so independently because of the many access barriers on Defendant's website, causing Alconeco.com to be inaccessible and not independently usable by, blind and visually impaired individuals.

45. Plaintiff ANDERSON experienced many barriers in his attempt to access Alconeco.com. For instance, the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG) are part of a series of web accessibility guidelines published by Web Accessibility Initiative (WAI) of the World Wide Web Consortium (W3C), which are the main international standards organization for the Internet. Plaintiff ANDERSON was completely blocked from the outset of ordering on Alconeco.com. Plaintiff and blind individuals have to excessively tab through the entire page to get to the product information. ALCONE COMPANY has failed to adhere to the recommendations of many of these guidelines such as,

- (a) WCAG 1.1 recommending businesses to provide text alternatives for any non-text content evidenced by the lack of vocalized description as Plaintiff and blind individuals tab over various icons on Alconeco.com.
- (b) WCAG 2.1 recommending businesses to make all functionality available from a keyboard evidenced by Plaintiff ANDERSON's request to select online ordering via the keyboard being ignored.

- (c) WCAG 2.4 recommending businesses to provide help for users to navigate, find content and determine where they are on the website evidenced by Alconeco.com's lack of links and headings.
- (d) WCAG 4.1 recommending businesses to maximize compatibility with current and future user agents, including assistive technologies, evidenced by the reasons stated above and that Plaintiff and blind individuals can only access ALCONE COMPANY's menu highlights after a lengthy search for reasons stated above.

46. As described above, Plaintiff has actual knowledge of the fact that Defendant's website, Alconeco.com contains access barriers causing the website to be inaccessible, and not independently usable by, blind and visually impaired individuals.

47. These barriers to access have denied Plaintiff full and equal access to, and enjoyment of, the goods, benefits and services of Alconeco.com and the ALCONE COMPANY Store.

48. ALCONE COMPANY engaged in acts of intentional discrimination, including but not limited to the following policies or practices:

- (a) constructed and maintained a website that is inaccessible to blind class members with knowledge of the discrimination; and/or
- (b) constructed and maintained a website that is sufficiently intuitive and/or obvious that is inaccessible to blind class members; and/or
- (c) failed to take actions to correct these access barriers in the face of substantial harm and discrimination to blind class members.

49. ALCONE COMPANY utilizes standards, criteria or methods of administration that have the effect of discriminating or perpetuating the discrimination of others.

CAUSES OF ACTION

FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of 42 U.S.C. §§ 12181, et seq. — Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act) (on behalf of Plaintiff and the Class)

50. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if set forth fully herein.

51. Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, 42 U.S.C. § 12182(a), provides that “No individual shall be discriminated against on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations of any place of public accommodation by any person who owns, leases (or leases to), or operates a place of public accommodation.” Title III also prohibits an entity from “[u]tilizing standards or criteria or methods of administration that have the effect of discriminating on the basis of disability.” 42 U.S.C. § 12181(b)(2)(D)(I).

52. The ALCONE COMPANY Store located in New York State and throughout the United States are sales establishments and public accommodations within the definition of 42 U.S.C. § 12181(7)(E). Alconeco.com is a service, privilege or advantage of the ALCONE COMPANY Store. Alconeco.com is a service that is by and integrated with these stores.

53. Defendant is subject to Title III of the ADA because they own and operate the ALCONE COMPANY Store.

54. Under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12182(b)(1)(A)(I) it is unlawful discrimination to deny individuals with disabilities or a class of individuals with disabilities the opportunity to participate in or benefit from the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations of an entity.

55. Under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12182(b)(1)(A)(II), it is unlawful discrimination to deny individuals with disabilities or a class of individuals with disabilities an opportunity to participate in or benefit from the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodation, which is equal to the opportunities afforded to other individuals.

56. Specifically, under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12182(b)(2)(A)(II), unlawful discrimination includes, among other things, “a failure to make reasonable modifications in policies, practices, or procedures, when such modifications are necessary to afford such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, or accommodations to individuals with disabilities, unless the entity can demonstrate that making such modifications would fundamentally alter the nature of such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations.”

57. In addition, under Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12182(b)(2)(A)(III), unlawful discrimination also includes, among other things, “a failure to take such steps as may be necessary to ensure that no individual with a disability is excluded, denied services, segregated or otherwise treated differently than other individuals because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services, unless the entity can demonstrate that taking such steps would fundamentally alter the nature of the good, service, facility, privilege, advantage, or accommodation being offered or would result in an undue burden.”

58. There are readily available, well established guidelines on the Internet for making websites accessible to the blind and visually impaired. These guidelines have been followed by other large business entities in making their website accessible, including but not limited to: adding alt-text to graphics and inaccessible product purchase pages. Incorporating the basic components to make its website accessible would neither fundamentally alter the nature of Defendant’s business nor result in an undue burden to Defendant.

59. The acts alleged herein constitute violations of Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. §

12101 et seq., and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Patrons of the ALCONE COMPANY Store who are blind have been denied full and equal access to Alconeco.com, have not been provided services that are provided to other patrons who are not disabled, and/or have been provided services that are inferior to the services provided to non-disabled patrons.

60. Defendant has failed to take any prompt and equitable steps to remedy its discriminatory conduct. These violations are ongoing.

61. As such, Defendant discriminates, and will continue in the future to discriminate against Plaintiff and members of the proposed class and subclass on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, accommodations and/or opportunities of Alconeco.com and the ALCONE COMPANY Store in violation of Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 12181 et seq. and/or its implementing regulations.

62. Unless the Court enjoins Defendant from continuing to engage in these unlawful practices, Plaintiff and members of the proposed class and subclass will continue to suffer irreparable harm.

63. The actions of Defendant were and are in violation of the ADA and therefore Plaintiff invokes his statutory right to injunctive relief to remedy the discrimination.

64. Plaintiff is also entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

65. Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 12188 and the remedies, procedures, and rights set forth and incorporated therein Plaintiff prays for judgment as set forth below.

SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of New York State Human Rights Law, N.Y. Exec. Law, Article 15 (Executive Law § 292 et seq.)
(on behalf of Plaintiff and New York subclass))

66. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as though fully set forth herein.

67. N.Y. Exec. Law § 296(2)(a) provides that it is “an unlawful discriminatory practice for any person, being the owner, lessee, proprietor, manager, superintendent, agent or employee of any place of public accommodation ... because of the ... disability of any person, directly or indirectly, to refuse, withhold from or deny to such person any of the accommodations, advantages, facilities or privileges thereof.”

68. The ALCONE COMPANY Store located in New York State is a sales establishment and public accommodation within the definition of N.Y. Exec. Law § 292(9). Alconeco.com is a service, privilege or advantage of the ALCONE COMPANY Store. Alconeco.com is a service that is by and integrated with these stores.

69. Defendant is subject to New York Human Rights Law because it owns and operates the ALCONE COMPANY Store and Alconeco.com. Defendant is a person within the meaning of N.Y. Exec. Law § 292(1).

70. Defendant is violating N.Y. Exec. Law § 296(2)(a) in refusing to update or remove access barriers to Alconeco.com, causing Alconeco.com and the services integrated with the ALCONE COMPANY Store to be completely inaccessible to the blind. This inaccessibility denies blind patrons full and equal access to the facilities, goods and services that Defendant makes available to the non-disabled public.

71. Specifically, under N.Y. Exec. Law § 296(2)(c)(I), unlawful discriminatory practice includes, among other things, “a refusal to make reasonable modifications in policies, practices, or procedures, when such modifications are necessary to afford facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations to individuals with disabilities, unless such person can demonstrate that making such modifications would fundamentally alter the nature of such facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations.”

72. In addition, under N.Y. Exec. Law § 296(2)(c)(II), unlawful discriminatory practice also includes, “a refusal to take such steps as may be necessary to ensure that no individual with a disability is excluded or denied services because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services, unless such person can demonstrate that taking such steps would fundamentally alter the nature of the facility, privilege, advantage or accommodation being offered or would result in an undue burden.”

73. There are readily available, well established guidelines on the Internet for making websites accessible to the blind and visually impaired. These guidelines have been followed by other large business entities in making their website accessible, including but not limited to: adding alt-text to graphics and inaccessible product purchase pages. Incorporating the basic components to make its website accessible would neither fundamentally alter the nature of Defendant’s business nor result in an undue burden to Defendant.

74. Defendant’s actions constitute willful intentional discrimination against the class on the basis of a disability in violation of the New York State Human Rights Law, N.Y. Exc. Law § 296(2) in that Defendant has:

- (a) constructed and maintained a website that is inaccessible to blind class members with knowledge of the discrimination; and/or
- (b) constructed and maintained a website that is sufficiently intuitive and/or obvious that is inaccessible to blind class members; and/or

- (c) failed to take actions to correct these access barriers in the face of substantial harm and discrimination to blind class members.

75. Defendant has failed to take any prompt and equitable steps to remedy its discriminatory conduct. These violations are ongoing.

76. As such, Defendant discriminates, and will continue in the future to discriminate against Plaintiff and members of the proposed class on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, accommodations and/or opportunities of Alconeco.com and the ALCONE COMPANY Store under § 296(2) et seq. and/or its implementing regulations. Unless the Court enjoins Defendant from continuing to engage in these unlawful practices, Plaintiff and members of the class will continue to suffer irreparable harm.

77. The actions of Defendant were and are in violation of New York State Human Rights Law and therefore Plaintiff invokes his right to injunctive relief to remedy the discrimination.

78. Plaintiff is also entitled to compensatory damages, as well as civil penalties and fines pursuant to N.Y. Exc. Law § 297(4)(c) et seq. for each and every offense.

79. Plaintiff is also entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

80. Pursuant to N.Y. Exec. Law § 297 and the remedies, procedures, and rights set forth and incorporated therein Plaintiff prays for judgment as set forth below.

THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of New York State Civil Rights Law, NY CLS Civ R,

Article 4 (CLS Civ R § 40 et seq.)

(on behalf of Plaintiff and New York subclass)

81. Plaintiff served notice thereof upon the attorney general as required by N.Y. Civil Rights Law § 41.

82. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as though fully set forth herein.

83. N.Y. Civil Rights Law § 40 provides that “all persons within the jurisdiction of this state shall be entitled to the full and equal accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges of any places of public accommodations, resort or amusement, subject only to the conditions and limitations established by law and applicable alike to all persons. No persons, being the owner, lessee, proprietor, manager, superintendent, agent, or employee of any such place shall directly or indirectly refuse, withhold from, or deny to any person any of the accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges thereof ...”

84. N.Y. Civil Rights Law § 40-c(2) provides that “no person because of ... disability, as such term is defined in section two hundred ninety-two of executive law, be subjected to any discrimination in his or her civil rights, or to any harassment, as defined in section 240.25 of the penal law, in the exercise thereof, by any other person or by any firm, corporation or institution, or by the state or any agency or subdivision”

85. The ALCONE COMPANY Store located in New York State is a sales establishment and public accommodation within the definition of N.Y. Civil Rights Law § 40-c(2). Alconeco.com is a service, privilege or advantage of the ALCONE COMPANY Store. Alconeco.com is a service that is by and integrated with these stores.

86. Defendant is subject to New York Civil Rights Law because it owns and operates the ALCONE COMPANY Store and Alconeco.com. Defendant is a person within the meaning of N.Y. Civil Law § 40-c(2).

87. Defendant is violating N.Y. Civil Rights Law § 40-c(2) in refusing to update or remove access barriers to Alconeco.com, causing Alconeco.com and the services integrated with the ALCONE COMPANY Store to be completely inaccessible to the blind. This inaccessibility denies blind patrons full and equal access to the facilities, goods and services that Defendant makes available to the non-disabled public.

88. There are readily available, well established guidelines on the Internet for making websites accessible to the blind and visually impaired. These guidelines have been followed by other large business entities in making their website accessible, including but not limited to: adding alt-text to graphics and accessible product purchase pages. Incorporating the basic components to make its website accessible would neither fundamentally alter the nature of Defendant's business nor result in an undue burden to Defendant.

89. In addition, N.Y. Civil Rights Law § 41 states that “any corporation which shall violate any of the provisions of sections forty, forty-a, forty-b or forty two ... shall for each and every violation thereof be liable to a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, to be recovered by the person aggrieved thereby...”

90. Specifically, under NY Civil Rights Law § 40-d, “any person who shall violate any of the provisions of the foregoing section, or subdivision three of section 240.30 or section 240.31 of the penal law, or who shall aid or incite the violation of any of said provisions shall for each and every violation thereof be liable to a penalty of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, to be recovered by the person aggrieved thereby in any court of competent jurisdiction in the county in which the defendant shall reside ...”

91. Defendant has failed to take any prompt and equitable steps to remedy its discriminatory conduct. These violations are ongoing.

92. As such, Defendant discriminates, and will continue in the future to discriminate against Plaintiff and members of the proposed class on the basis of disability are being directly or indirectly refused, withheld from, or denied the accommodations, advantages, facilities and privileges thereof in § 40 et seq. and/or its implementing regulations.

93. Plaintiff is entitled to compensatory damages of five hundred dollars per instance, as well as civil penalties and fines pursuant to N.Y. Civil Law § 40 et seq. for each and every offense.

FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

(Violation of New York City Human Rights Law, N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-102, et seq.)
(on behalf of Plaintiff and New York subclass)

94. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if set forth fully herein.

95. N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-107(4)(a) provides that “It shall be an unlawful discriminatory practice for any person, being the owner, lessee, proprietor, manager, superintendent, agent or employee of any place or provider of public accommodation, because of ... disability ... directly or indirectly, to refuse, withhold from or deny to such person, any of the accommodations, advantages, facilities or privileges thereof.”

96. The ALCONE COMPANY Store located in New York State and throughout the United States are sales establishments and public accommodations within the definition of N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-102(9). Alconeco.com is a service, privilege or advantage of the ALCONE COMPANY Store. Alconeco.com is a service that is by and integrated with these stores.

97. Defendant is subject to City Law because it owns and operates the ALCONE COMPANY Store and Alconeco.com. Defendant is a person within the meaning of N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-102(1).

98. Defendant is violating N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-107(4)(a) in refusing to update or remove access barriers to Alconeco.com, causing Alconeco.com and the services integrated with the ALCONE COMPANY Store to be completely inaccessible to the blind. This inaccessibility denies blind patrons full and equal access to the facilities, goods, and services that Defendant makes available to the non-disabled public. Specifically, Defendant is required to “make reasonable accommodation to the needs of persons with disabilities ... any person prohibited by the provisions of [§ 8-107 et seq.] from discriminating on the basis of disability shall make reasonable accommodation to enable a person with a disability to ... enjoy the right or rights in question provided that the disability is known or should have been known by the covered entity.” N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-107(15)(a).

99. Defendant’s actions constitute willful intentional discrimination against the class on the basis of a disability in violation of the N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-107(4)(a) and § 8-107(15)(a) in that Defendant has:

- (a) constructed and maintained a website that is inaccessible to blind class members with knowledge of the discrimination; and/or
- (b) constructed and maintained a website that is sufficiently intuitive and/or obvious that is inaccessible to blind class members; and/or
- (c) failed to take actions to correct these access barriers in the face of substantial harm and discrimination to blind class members.

100. Defendant has failed to take any prompt and equitable steps to remedy its discriminatory conduct. These violations are ongoing.

101. As such, Defendant discriminates, and will continue in the future to discriminate against Plaintiff and members of the proposed class and subclass on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages, accommodations and/or opportunities of Alconeco.com and the ALCONE COMPANY Store under § 8-107(4)(a) and/or its implementing regulations. Unless the Court enjoins Defendant from continuing to engage in these unlawful practices, Plaintiff and members of the class will continue to suffer irreparable harm.

102. The actions of Defendant were and are in violation of City law and therefore Plaintiff invokes his right to injunctive relief to remedy the discrimination.

103. Plaintiff is also entitled to compensatory damages, as well as civil penalties and fines under N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-120(8) and § 8-126(a) for each offense.

104. Plaintiff is also entitled to reasonable attorneys' fees and costs.

105. Pursuant to N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-120 and § 8-126 and the remedies, procedures, and rights set forth and incorporated therein Plaintiff prays for judgment as set forth below.

FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

Declaratory Relief (on behalf of Plaintiff and the Class)

106. Plaintiff realleges and incorporates by reference the foregoing allegations as if set forth fully herein.

107. An actual controversy has arisen and now exists between the parties in that Plaintiff contends, and is informed and believes that Defendant denies, that Alconeco.com contains access barriers denying blind customers the full and equal access to the goods, services and facilities of Alconeco.com and by extension the ALCONE COMPANY Store, which ALCONE COMPANY owns, operates, and/or controls, fails to comply with applicable laws including, but not limited to, Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 12182, et seq., N.Y. Exec. Law § 296, et seq., and N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-107, et seq. prohibiting discrimination against the blind.

108. A judicial declaration is necessary and appropriate at this time in order that each of the parties may know their respective rights and duties and act accordingly.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for judgment as set forth below.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff requests relief as follows:

- (a) A preliminary and permanent injunction to prohibit Defendant from violating the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 12182, et seq., N.Y. Exec. Law § 296, et seq., N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-107, et seq., and the laws of New York;
- (b) A preliminary and permanent injunction requiring Defendant to take all the steps necessary to make its website, Alconeco.com, into full compliance with the requirements set forth in the ADA, and its implementing regulations, so that Alconeco.com is readily accessible to and usable by blind individuals;
- (c) A declaration that Defendant owns, maintains and/or operates its website, Alconeco.com, in a manner which discriminates against the blind and which fails to provide access for persons with disabilities as required by Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. §§ 12182, et seq., N.Y. Exec. Law § 296, et seq., N.Y.C. Administrative Code § 8-107, et seq., and the laws of New York;

- (d) An order certifying this case as a class action under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a) & (b)(2) and/or (b)(3), appointing Plaintiff as Class Representative, and his attorneys as Class Counsel;
- (e) Compensatory damages in an amount to be determined by proof, including all applicable statutory damages and fines, to Plaintiff and the proposed class for violations of their civil rights under New York State Human Rights Law and City Law;
- (f) Plaintiff's reasonable attorneys' fees, expenses, and costs of suit as provided by state and federal law;
- (g) For pre and post-judgment interest to the extent permitted by law; and
- (h) Such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
